

The Role

We're looking for an experienced 'all-rounder' to join our dynamic Melbourne Studio in a role that will see you work directly with project leaders on a range of exciting projects.

Our Melbourne studio runs a robust Graduate Mentoring Program that provides the practical experience and professional knowledge needed to prepare for registration.

The ideal candidate for this role will possess design capabilities, an understanding of technical applications and will offer the team support in contract administration and across all phases of the design process, from concept through to construction stage services. You should be able to work effectively in isolation and as part of a larger team.

Working under the direction of a supervising architect, you will develop a solid foundation of knowledge across all project stages including client briefing, concept design, design development, documentation, consultant coordination, and delivery.

This role is permanent for an immediate start for the right candidate in 2021.
